

Amendments to the Drawings

Figs. 1, 2A, 2B, 3, 4A, 4B and 5 were all modified to replace two inconsistent browser frame types with a single abstract browser frame. The phrase [BROWSER HEADER] refers to the collection of buttons and menus found at the top of a typical browser page. Full color originals with red markup indicating change are appended.

Figs. 2B and 3 were modified so that gray scale image data was replaced with diagonal, or vertical line-patterns. Also in these figures, the phrases "Loss tangent", "Conductivity (S/m)", "Roughness (um)" and "Rel. permeability" have been deleted as they were irrelevant non-functional placeholder fields and the grayscale text could not meet reproducibility requirements.

Fig. 1 has had the word "ChipCenter, LLC" replaced with "Client Company" in the disclaimer text. The disclaimer text itself is completely irrelevant.
